GEORGE WASHINGTON

A man worthy of his country

GEORGE WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL,

A school worthy of his name

The 1955 CAVALIER

DANVILLE, VIRGINIA

Dedication

To you, EUGENE STRYKER — our loyal friend and companion—we, the 1955 graduating class, wish to express our gratitude for your wonderful service to us. We will long remember the interest you've shown in GW activities and your participation in our community affairs.

Mr. Music Man himself—Gene is right at home whether with the school band or a local orchestra. He has a way with most any musical instrument and, as choir director of Mt. Vernon Church, has displayed his fine baritone. Working with WBTM radio, at school, and in the community, our versatile maestro has proved his winning personality.

The Mr. and Miss GW contest brought a week of excitement. Sarah and Peggy were kept busy changing the number of votes cast for each candidate.

From these seven candidates—Fred, Bob, Stanley, Larry, Neal, and Ralf — comes the question, "Who will it be?"

Everybody was saying, "Which one of these girls —Peggy, Nancy Craig, Betty, Joan, Patsy, Catherine, or Anne — will be chosen the typical GWite?"

Jimmy and Sandy placed last-minute votes on their favorite contestants while the crowd gathered in the hall waiting for the 3:30 bell to close the contest.

Mr. and Miss George Washington

NANCY CRAIG WILLIAMS and FRED LEGGETT, chosen as typical seniors, enjoy an autumn day in the woods.

At Dan River Mills Jimmy Robertson, Jane Crutchfield, Eva Stegall and Sam Arnett inspect thread in the Research Department.

Sonny Williams, Carolyn Farmer, Shirley Ludwick, and Charles Buck listen intently to an explanation of sales as they attend a tobacco auction.

Anne Bruce and Ellen certainly do look industrious on entering our Danville Public Library. All those books don't seem to faze Bobby.

"Joy to the World" carol the members of the Mt. Vernon Youth Fellowship while the cold night air whips around them.

TO OUR TEACHERS (with no apology to Ogden Nash)

From eight-thirty to three-thirty, nine months a year,
They stand before us, as we sit here!
They give us homework, classwork, lectures, and tests,
And it's impossible to name what all is the rest.
Yet if our grades are failing, we can always depend
That they will help us and be our friend;
Then we know that we need them and we won't complain—
That is, until reports come out again.

—Mary Jane Evans

Some of the many services --

At any hour of the day, Mrs. Wells and Miss Copeland, secretaries, may be found working busily in the office.

Around 1:30 each day, Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Evans, Mrs. Bailey, and Mrs. Pearson, manager, check the day's receipts in the cafeteria.

Mr. Doolin, head maintenance man, inspects the work of carpenters who are installing new lockers.

Books are issued to Phyllis Flood and Richard Hall by Mr. Lefty Wilson, in charge of book distribution.

We'll always remember

The retirement of Mrs. Nora Payne Hill in June of last year marked the end of a grand era at GW. For over 30 years she guided The Chatterbox, lifting it and the name of George Washington High School to the top in high school journalism. Her sharp wit and superior ability gained her our respect and admiration; she has left a place among us that cannot be filled.

When school began this fall, we missed a favorite faculty member, A. B. Wilson, who had retired to Florida. We shall never forget his Latin classes. Under Mr. Wilson's capable instruction, we studied grammar, vocabulary and finally, Caesar. His jokes, stories, and songs added variety to our weekly Latin Club meetings. The things we learned from Mr. Wilson were not limited to the text. He demonstrated the values of friendship, fellowship and good humor.

Billy Clifton and Bill Overcash, members of the Junior class, try to sell Jo Wheatley a ticket to "Jane Eyre."

Sarah, Carolee, Anne, and Helen are baking a pie for the Jr.-Senior picnic. Watch your figure, Helen!

Helen, Sarah and John enjoy being around these celebrities—Seniors. Jimmy, Betty Jane, and Fred feel mighty important.

At the Seniors' Harvest Hop, Anne, Cele, Craig, Patsy, Catherine, and Lois give Bill "Rochester" Nelson "the rush."

Mothers and fathers listen intently as Fred Leggett directs them to our class rooms at the annual Open House for teachers and parents.

"Who's that cute dish?" says the "corner gang"—Al, Ralf, Pryor, Larry, Jack, Ken, Tom, Stu, and Bob—as they give some unsuspecting female the "once-over."

CHEERLEADERS

Composed of twelve boys and girls in the upper four grades, the varsity cheerleading squad promotes school spirit among the students at GW. The members of this group are selected in the spring by a committee of faculty and Monogram Club members. Each cheerleader serves for two years and may be re-elected.

The squad's list of responsibilities includes leading the cheers at all athletic events, decorating the ball park for games and the cafeteria for the Homecoming Dance, and arranging all pep rallies.

N. Snead, P. Browder, M. Hurd, M. Croxton, G. Nix, I. Baum.

JUNIOR CHEERLEADERS

Chosen by members of the faculty and the Monogram Club, the Junior varsity cheerleading squad consists of six girls in the eighth and ninth grades. These sports-loving girls are led by Pat Browder.

The junior cheerleaders lead the yells for varsity and jayvee football games, and jayvee basketball games. In November four additional girls —Betty Grow, Susan Payne, Dorothy Womack, and Sue Bonner— were added to the squad.

Formed in 1949, the 1955 George Washington High School Band is composed of sixty members including five majorettes. Participating in many outside functions as well as high school performances, the band performs for assembly programs, pep rallies, parents' open house, and for all home football games. This year they attended three out-of-town games—Lynchburg, Roanoke, and Hopewell.

The band also took part in city parades and performed in the District Festival, where the group received a rating of Excellent. Douglas Biggs, Jimmy Fleming, Alton Corpening, and Fred Dwight Richmond are members who won honors by participating in the All-State Band.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club, with Coach El Wilson as advisor, plays an important part in the high school life. This organization sponsors the Homecoming weekend which includes a gala bonfire, the presentation of the queen and her attendants, and a victory dance. In the spring a big picnic is held for the members and their guests, at which time the athletic department is presented a gift. Along with members of the faculty, the Monogram Club selects the cheerleading squad.

To become eligible for membership in this club, a boy must have won a letter in one of the seven varsity sports at GW. These include football, basketball, baseball, wrestling, track, tennis, and golf. The new members are initiated at the end of the basketball season in a long-to-be remembered ceremony.

Officers for 1955 are: Buck Hundley, president; Ray Beale, vice-president; Jimmy Woody, secretary-treasurer; and Kenneth Payne, sergeant-at-arms.

Bobby Crawford and Jackie Phillips attempt to sell Mr. Bacon a program at one of the football games.

as did these girls

To stimulate interest in a variety of sports and to promote spirited rivalry and sportsmanship through intramurals is the aim of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Any girl who participates in after-school intramurals is automatically a member of the G.A.A. The point system enables those girls who show active participation in the girls' athletic program throughout the year to earn points towards a monogram.

The G.A.A. sponsors after-school intramurals for the following sports: basketball, volleyball, ping-pong and tennis.

In the spring there is an annual G.A.A. Carnival at which each of the extra-curricular clubs at GW sponsors a booth.

Every year the G.A.A. works with the Girls' Physical Education Department in directing an assembly program on May Day.

Mary Jane Evans was elected to head the G.A.A. this year, while Anna Glenn Cox was chosen as vice-president and Teresa Johnson, Dixie Hilliard and Patsy Ayres were selected to serve as secretary, treasurer, and points chairman respectively.

Under the guidance of Misses Norma Roady, Carol Williams, and Joanne Williams—the physical education teachers—the G.A.A. has become an active part in the school life of each girl at GW.

This was one of the exciting moments in an intramural basketball game.

Homecoming was exciting

Silhouetted against the roaring fire, a football player tosses a wooden cross into the blaze, symbolizing the defeat of the Mt. Vernon team. At the traditional bonfire held on the athletic field we cheered our team on to victory!

Excitement was at fever-pitch as we raced through the streets, shouting and yelling for our gridiron heroes. Starting from the Athletic field, we "snake danced" wildly all the way down Main Street.

The climax of our victorious weekend was a gala Homecoming Dance, highlighted by the presentation of Queen Mary with her attendants Peggy and Martha. The cafeteria, transformed beyond recognition by crepe paper and balloons, was the scene of this event.

FOOTBALL

Not since 1944 has GW had a football team of such comparable quality and ability as this year's eleven. Through a schedule of 10 games, GW emerged undefeated, having won 8 and tied 2 of the contests.

The season began on September 10 at Roxboro on the Tarheels' field, where GW showed its terrific offense for the first time and scored 5 times, the final score being 32 to 12. Against Salem (in the first home game) the Cardinals displayed their defensive ability, making the contest a 27 to 0 victory. William Fleming of Roanoke, the second team to play GW at Danville, held the Redbirds to a scoreless tie. This game was a battle of defenses and the Cardinal line attracted statewide attention. To finish off the home-ground series, Covington arrived and was sent back defeated more soundly than the score, GW 26—Covington 20, indicated. The Redbirds next journeyed to Lynchburg, where they defeated their longtime rival, E. C. Glass, by a 39 to 7 score; the second string playing most of the game for GW. Following the wake of Hurricane Hazel, the Cardinals arrived at Warwick and raised almost as much havoc. It was a very hard-fought battle but GW managed to take the contest 8 to 0. This victory established GW as a contender for the Group I crown.

Hundley, in the Lynchburg game, carries for a first down, as Beale clears the way.

Almost 5000 fans braved the chilly weather to see the annual Shrine Game. Even though the Cardinals moved ahead in the first half, the Bulldogs rallied and it became a most interesting game, the final score being GW 26 and Martinsville 19.

In the annual Shrine Game against Martinsville, Brooks proves that it takes more than one man to stop him.

Mt. Vernon arrived in Danville for the Redbirds' homecoming contest and was completely outplayed, the game ending 34 to 7.

Next GW journeyed to Jefferson of Roanoke where the western district championship and possibly the state crown were to be decided. For the first time in the season GW was behind by 13 to 6 at half time but making a spectacular comeback, the Cardinals marched 60 yards to tie the score 13 to 13, where it remained until the final whistle was blown. To finish off this highly successful season, GW met the Blue Devils at Hopewell in a Thanksgiving day contest and the free-scoring game ended 54 to 32 in favor of the Danville team.

Even though GW finished third in the state race, having a 6-0-1 conference record, it had the most outstanding statistics—259 points scored in 10 games. The highest scorers on the team were Pryor Millner and Larry Brooks with 61, and Ray Beale with 46 points. Under the direction of head coach El Wilson and assistant coaches Larry Paladino, Joe Gurtis and Charlie Franzen, the "Wilsonmen" ran up a total of over 2000 yards offense. With Pryor Millner

The other boys receiving monograms, without whose help the team could not have existed, were Ralf Mast, Sonny Kinser, Jack Barnett, Van Holton, Terry Wilmouth, Leon Hawker, John Keeling, Buck Hundley, Clinton Pruitt, Julian Clifton, D. G. Carter, Al Bailey, Bobby Marks, Johnny Moore, and the managers, Jimmy Woody, Tommy Bowles, and Jackie Jester.

Due to the lack of interest for high school sports by the citizens of Danville, George Washington was having a difficult time financing many of its sports. To improve this situation and to obtain city-wide support for the teams, the Boosters' Club was organized in 1953. This club is composed of all citizens who are willing to pay a small entrance fee and are anxious to publicize the athletic contests.

A number of members were soon recruited and money was earned by selling programs and GW buttons at football games. The attendance at these games increased markedly and the team gained much moral support. In return for these actions the GW coaching squad arranged for the Booster Club members to meet the players personally and to show them films of previous football games.

for the Jayvees to match

Under the expert coaching of Larry Paladino, the Baby Cards went through a very satisfactory season, winning 6 and losing only 1.

The season started on September 16 in Altavista where the Danville Jayvees won a 32-0 victory. Halifax lost 20-2 to the Cards, and Reidsville fell to the side 13-12 after a hard-fought contest. On October 7 Helena High School was defeated 7-6 and on October 13 Martinsville lost 7-0. In the second home-game of the season the GW Jayvees suffered their first and only loss, a 6-0 defeat by Roxboro. To close their seven game schedule Paladino's boys journeyed to Halifax County High School and trampled the Jayvees there 18 to 2.

The boys receiving Jayvee monograms were Dick Fralin, Bob Martin, Kenneth Shelton, Richard Haymore, Leon Ashby, Luther Bradley, James Pennington, Randy Beale, Ed Ragland, Carrington Smith, David Spearman, Ronnie Bryant, John Arey, Max Campbell, James Clark, Billy Cook, Billy Clifton, Paul Denny, Peyton Eggleston, John Matney, Billy Norman, Bobby Stone, Joe Towler, Gordon Watkins, and Jackie Jester, manager.

Bob Martin carries the leather against Halifax, while other GW backs get ready to clear the way.

This impressive record shows that there are many talented players on this team who in a year or two will become valuable members of the varsity team.

BASKETBALL

Under the leadership of Charlie Franzen, who replaced Al Mathes, the GW basketball team appears to have clinched another winning season. With three of 1954's starting five graduating, Franzen had a difficult job of forming a new team. Members of this year's squad include Jackie Phillips, high scorer, Jack Barnett, Larry Brooks, Pryor Millner, Van Holton, and Leon Hawker, all of whom played varsity basketball last season. Donnie Cole, Bobby Cheek and David Shultz moved up from the Jayvee team. Other players are Gerald Hutcherson, Maury Matthews, Wayne Hudson, Bruce Shore, Joe Skinner and Gerald Lewis.

As this publication goes to press, the GW Redbirds have an eight to six record, and are still in the running for a berth in the state tournament. The most exciting games of the season have been against GW's bitter rival, E. C. Glass of Lynchburg. In the first game, the Cards defeated the Hilltoppers 44-42, but Lynchburg revenged its loss by outscoring GW 51-68 a few weeks later. Other hard-fought contests included the Halifax game, which GW took 64-51 and the game with Salem, with GW winning 64-49. Contests with Cradock, Covington, Salem, and Jefferson of Roanoke remain to be played.

The Cardinals are experiencing a rebuilding season and next year's schedule is expected to be rather rugged. Several promising Jayvees will join the varsity squad, but the team will lose the services of Larry Brooks, Jackie Phillips, Jack Barnett, and Pryor Millner through graduation.

In the closing minutes of the Lynchburg game, Jackie Phillips attempts a hook shot while Jack Barnett and Van Holton wait for a possible rebound.

Van Holton tries to prevent a Martinsville player from making a rebound shot while the other eight players watch and prepare for possible action.

New to the GW Physical Education Department this year was basketball coach Charlie Franzen. Before coming to George Washington, Mr. Franzen, who played both football and basketball in college, was an instructor in El Paso, Texas, and Marion, Virginia.

Coaching the junior varsity squads for the second consecutive season was Larry Paladino. Coach Paladino, also a two-letter man at college (football and baseball), plays professional baseball during the summer months. Like Franzen, he served both as a football and basketball coach.

J. V. BASKETBALL

The Junior Varsity team continues to be one of the best Jayvee squads in the state. With Larry Paladino as coach, the Baby Cards won ten games while losing only three. The victories included double wins over Woodrow Wilson Junior High, Roxboro, and E. C. Glass. The GW squad defeated William Fleming, Martinsville, Halifax and Salem, but lost to Jefferson of Roanoke, Martinsville and Halifax.

With a large number of boys joining the squad, the coaches had much material from which to pick. Outstanding players during the season were Richard Haymore, Ronnie Bryant, Tommy Dalton, Clyde Travis, Bobby Ashby, David Crawford, and Wayne Crawford. These boys formed the starting team while Yeatts, Womack, Campbell, Anderson, Martin, Gray, Meadows, and South made up the reserve group.

Despite the fact that several players will move up to the varsity squad next season, the Jayvees are expected to continue their good record in 1956.

BASEBALL

For the second straight year, the GW baseball team proved they were the best in the state.

Being undefeated in conference games, the Cardinals in an eighteen game season suffered only one defeat and one tie.

The GW team, after playing magnificient ball all season and winning the Western District crown, went to Mt. Vernon High School in June to compete for the championship.

In the first championship game, with Smiley pitching, Highland Springs lost by a score of 8 to 2. Adkins pitched the second game and the Cardinals defeated Washington-Lee High School, 6 to 3. Maury fell to the Cardinals 9 to 4 when Hundley hurled in the third championship game. In the last game, a return match with Maury, Smiley again came to the mound and at the end of 4½ innings with GW ahead 13 to 0, the Maury coach conceded defeat.

Winning letters this season were Crawford, Phillips, Douglas, Hawker, Brooks and Williams in the infield; Parker, Hubbard and Smiley in the outfield; and pitchers Adkins, Hundley and Cowan. Stanley Houghton should also be congratulated for managing his second championship team.

The team was again coached by "Lefty" Wilson, whose patience, experience, interest and knowledge have proved invaluable in producing champions.

WRESTLING

With a year's experience behind them, members of the GW wrestling team improved noticeably. After an intensive training period under Coach Gurtis, the matmen won their first victory with a 26-24 decision over Beaumont. Then came a 3-41 loss to William Fleming and a 13-21 defeat by the VMI freshmen.

Larry Brooks and Kenneth Payne show one of the many wrestling holds.

Powerful Jefferson of Roanoke scored 32 points against the Danville matmen who managed to take only 16 points. Beaumont revenged its former defeat 34-20 and the Cardinals went to Fleming to be pushed aside 6-36.

Jefferson came to Danville for a return match, winning 38-13. A second victory was scored by the GW boys when they defeated Greensboro 23-19. In the match four Danville wrestlers pinned their opponents.

The most outstanding GW wrestler for 1955 was Charles Buck, who won all of his eight matches, scoring a total of 30 points. Ray Beale was next with 18 points and Tommy Nance came in third with 16. Other GW matmen included Clifton, Matney, Gery, Satterfield, Harley, Samuels, Williams, Moose, Sammons, Shelton, Slayton, Groff Lewis and Pruitt. As this publication goes to press the local wrestlers have return matches with Greensboro and the VMI freshmen remaining on their schedule.

TRACK

In its fourth year of existence, this year's track team proved to be the greatest in the school's history. Winning four out of five meets and placing third in the district, the GW cindermen established many new records. In all, eleven school records were broken.

Ray Beale established a new shot put record of 44 feet 8½ inches. The school high jump record of 5 feet 7 inches was set by Bobby Hill and a broad jump of 19 feet 6¾ inches gave Jack Thomas a new school record. Jimmy Melvin, GW's fastest track man, set records of 10.4 seconds and 23.8 seconds for the 100 and 220 yard dashes respectively. Calvin Fowler, highest point scorer on the team, also set two records—15.4 seconds for the low hurdles and 20.1 seconds for the high hurdles. Other record holders are John Keeling with 52.8 seconds for the 440 yard dash, Leon Lewis with 2:09 for the 880, and Jack Taylor with 4:56 for the mile. Keeling, Taylor, Kinser and Lewis teamed up to run the relay in 3:45.6.

Calvin Fowler sails over the high hurdle.

The outlook for next year's track team is very good. Many lettermen are returning, including several record holders and Coach El Wilson will again coach the cindermen.

GOLF

One of the newer GW sports, golf, was coached this year by Mr. Bernard Ladd. Under his able leadership the "links-men" had a good season with eight wins and four defeats.

Jimmy Flippen, number one man, tees off.

After opening the season with a 10½ to 7½ victory over Tri-City, the team went on to defeat Bassett 14½ to 3½, Drewry Mason 18 to 0, Jefferson of Roanoke 12 to 6, and again Drewry Mason 27 to 0. Their first defeat was a 6 to 12 loss to Greensboro, but the team traveled to Glenn winning an 18 to 0 victory. In the eighth match of the season the Tri-City team avenged their earlier defeat by a score of 10 to 8. After a 12 to 6 victory over Bassett, the Cardinals were twice defeated in return matches, losing to Jefferson by a score of 2½ to 3¼ and to Greensboro 6 to 12. The season ended triumphantly with an 18 to 0 victory over Glenn.

Outstanding this season were Jimmy Flippin, Raymond Mustain, Ray Johnson, Virgil Grow, Tommy Hughes, and Bill Overcash. With five of six lettermen returning, the prospects for next season appear to be excellent.

and a championship in tennis

Winning four out of five games with other Group I schools in our district, the tennis team, under the able leadership of Coach Al Mathes, had another good season.

In brief the season was as follows: beginning with a 6 to 3 victory over Hargrave Military Academy, the Cardinals next defeated Lynchburg 5 to 4. The next match, with Greensboro, ended in a 6 to 6 tie because of darkness. In the fourth match of the season Roanoke was defeated 6 to 3. The Cardinals then lost matches to U.N.C. Freshmen, N.C. State Freshmen, and to Lynchburg. The latter in avenging a former loss, gave the Cardinal team its only defeat in the Conference play. The George Washington team then returned home to defeat Jefferson of Roanoke and Hargrave Military Academy both by the score of 8 to 1 and to wind up our conference play with a 5 to 4 victory over Lynchburg. This victory clinched the Western District Championship for GW. With this title the Cardinals went to Williamsburg for the statewide play-offs. There Alexandria defeated them by the close score of 4 to 5, thus ending GW's successful season.

The Cardinal team was composed of Jack Barnett, Bill Roberts, William Payne, Danny Crawley, Waller Hairston, Richard Pretty and Neal Howard. Returning this year are Jack Barnett, Richard Pretty and Neal Howard.

Winner of the Most Valuable Player Award, Jack Barnett illustrates his racket skills.

Martha Farley and Jane Gammon listen intently as Miss Oliver explains to her History 5 class the situation of the different countries in Europe.

Joe Chappel and Janice Myers help Miss Howard get materials for their next chemistry experiment.

Can this be Jack Barnett working in the print shop? Well, athletes do have to go to classes and Jack appears to be working hard.

In the guidance department Miss Woodson helps Nancy Roane find her records for the school year and aids her in deciding upon her high school course.

Lois and Nancy Craig seem to be enjoying their jobs as helpers for Miss Johns. Let's hope they put the books in the right place.

Elizabeth Sipe takes Elaine Powell's pulse as Nancy Warren illustrates how to make up a bed with the patient in it.

Miss Fitzgerald's dramatics class always works hard. Here Patsy and Nancy are practicing for a pantomime they will present in assembly. Hey, Helen and Jo, you are looking at the camera! Pay attention to the class!

Charles Jordan seems intent upon selling Gloria Nix a clarinet from Cleveland's Music Shop. By the way, Charles works at Cleveland's, but he did this display for his D.E. project.

All school plays will certainly be a hit with Jimmy, Artie, James, N. H., Clinton, Don, and Bobby working on the sets. Be careful with that paint, boys!

Doris Jean Douglas and Romona Hudgins, who are taking a business course, mimeograph material for one of their classes.

Mr. Smith explains to David Clark and Peggy Blackwell the bulletin board on The Canterbury Tales, made by his English 5 classes.

Howard Walters points out the different rooms in this miniature White House, built by Mr. Daniels' history classes. The flags around the blackboard were made by students in these classes also.

Apparently Kenneth and Mr. Houser don't understand Wendy's last remark to the debators. Look at those sad expressions!

Hey, girls! Where's the food? Or do you masterminds digest books and notes for lunch as well as cokes and candy? Maybe Gayle, Brenda, and Mary Jane can help solve this mystery.

Keith, Sam, Fred, Hubert, and Jim stand guard at the gates in the main hall during lunch period so that classes in session will not be disturbed by students roaming through the halls.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The governing body of George Washington High School includes a representative from each homeroom and the ten members of the Judiciary. Each representative must have at least a C average. All activities of the Student Council are introduced to the homeroom by its representative for approval before any major setps are taken.

The Council helps to initiate and formulate the course of conduct for the student body and seeks to lead in the attainment of this objective. An orientation program for the new students was the main function of the Student Council for the past year. Over 450 students from the elementary and junior high schools were shown the buildings and campus. An assembly program was given by the representatives to introduce the visitors to the various activities and courses at George Washington High School.

This year the Student Council conducted a March of Dimes drive with homerooms competing with each other. Daily results were posted on a bulletin board in the main hall and the homeroom contributing the most was given special recognition. A Tackey Dance was sponsored to benefit this drive and an admission of ten cents per twenty-five pounds was charged.

In February the homeroom representatives sponsored a Sweetheart Ball to celebrate Valentine's Day. At the dance, the Queen of Hearts, along with her two attendants, was presented. This year's royal court included Jo Ann Owen, Sarah Jordan, and Martha Ann Earles.

JUDICIARY

A branch of the Student Council, the Judiciary of George Washington High School, plays a major role in the government of the student body.

The group is composed of two sophomores, four juniors, and four seniors plus the Student Council president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer, who hold the same offices in this organization. A student, to be eligible for Judiciary membership, must have a scholastic average of eighty or above and must never have appeared before the group for any reason.

The main duty of the honor court is the trying of cases in the school which involve breeches of honor and other dishonest practices. After reaching a verdict in such cases, the group recommends to the office and faculty members suitable punishment for the students involved.

Another Judiciary duty is the tabulation of votes in all major elections, especially the selection of Student Council officers. In the Orientation program for incoming GW students, members of the Judiciary serve as guides. Every few years, this organization investigates the GW clubs and their activities to determine if each group is fulfilling the requirements stated in the charter granted them by the Student Council.

HONOR SOCIETY

To create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership, and to encourage the development of character in pupils of George Washington High School is the object of the WASHINGTON CHAPTER of the NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY.

One must be a junior or senior in high school with an average of 92 per cent to be eligible for membership in this organization. Members are chosen by the principal and four members of the faculty on the basis of scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Only 15 per cent of the senior class and 15 members of the junior class can be selected for membership.

This year the Honor Society had an induction ceremony in a March assembly program in order to acquaint more students with the chapter. New members were honored and certificates were given to the graduating members.

Last year, the society's annual project was to produce more interest in forensics at GW by having members of the Honor Society participate in these speaking activities. Also a banquet was held at the end of the school year at the Green Lantern.

Officers of the National Honor Society are: Carolyn Edwards, president; Gary Moore, vice-president; Jimmy Farley, treasurer; Peggy Ann Clark, secretary; and Miss Lucile Walton, sponsor.

QUILL AND SCROLL

INTERNATIONAL HONORARY SOCIETY FOR HIGH SCHOOL JOURNALISTS. Quill and Scroll was organized for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual achievement in journalism and allied fields. The Society takes an active part in raising standards in its field and in directing the course of high school journalism.

Members of Quill and Scroll must fill the following requirements: they must be at least a junior; they must be in the upper third of their class in general scholastic standing at the time of their election; they must have done superior work in some phase of journalistic or creative endeavor; they must be recommended by the advisor or by the committee governing publications; and they must be approved by the executive secretary.

New members in the Roscoe B. Ellard chapter are Johnsie Choate, Bunny Booker, Linda Jo Saunders, Martha Farley, Betty Motley, Bud Evans, Nancy Bebeau, Wendy Vanderwerff, Sandy Pilipowskyj, John Bonner, Tom Bowles, and Ken Passamaneck. A formal initiation was held in the spring for these journalists.

A group of high school advisors organized Quill and Scroll April 10, 1926. More recently the Quill and Scroll Corporation was formed to aid in the administering of business affairs of the Society and the administration of Quill and Scroll Foundations.

CAVALIER

For the first time in its history, THE CAVALIER, the yearbook of GWHS, received a Medalist rating from the judges of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest. This award is presented to only ten per cent of the books receiving a first place rating in each group, which is determined by the enrollment of the school. The GW annual has consistently received a first-place rating in S.I.P.A. and C.S.P.A. contests, which fills each year's staff with enthusiasm and desire to make their book "the best ever."

To begin the year's activities, the staff members presented an assembly program entitled "The Cavalier Through the Ages" which launched the subscription campaign for the year. For the purpose of raising funds to help meet the rising costs of publishing a yearbook, a "Mr. and Miss GW" contest was sponsored and name cards were sold.

Each member of THE CAVALIER staff sincerely hopes that the 1955 yearbook has captured the spirit and personality of GWHS, so that in future years this book will serve as a reminder of our high school happiness.

Each day the hard-working "Cavaliers" could be seen slaving away in room 209. Mary and Martha were heard begging staff members to get "just one little ad." While Chigger and Jo Anne tapped away on the typewriters, trying to make the write-ups readable before the dead-line, Miss Estes and Anne were seen searching under desks and in dark closets for that "I know I put it here but it's gone now" book.

At Patsy's house everyone met to think of "cute" and "original" comments to go under the seniors' names. But were those refreshments good! Sara Dean was heard complaining, "Who can think on a full stomach!"

All "spies" and "trouble-makers" were sent out of the CAVALIER room as the staff members strove to produce a CAVALIER that will be hailed as "the best yet."

In "The Cavalier Through the Ages" the yearbook staff showed how GW's yearbook played an important part in the history of the world. We all thought we deserved Oscars after our performance.

CHATTERBOX

Under the careful guidance and assistance of Miss Roberts, The Chatterbox, GW's bi-weekly publication, continues to be one of the foremost papers in the state. Accurate news stories, features, columns, and sports stories contributed by past and present journalism students appear in each issue.

The Chatterbox has maintained only the highest journalistic standards since its birth in 1922. This is quite an accomplishment in view of the fact that so many varied talents have served on the paper through the years. Among its honors, The Chatterbox is proud of having secured such awards as the All-American Honor Rating, CSPA Medalist, Quill and Scroll International Honor Rating, First Place Winner SIPA, and the Gallup Award. In order to uphold the high standards reached by the journalists before them, it is the staff's job to keep up the good work by striving for a "better than ever" Chatterbox.

CHATTERBOX

A familiar sight to all GWites is the appearance of the Green Duck. This "green creature" is the symbol of the "world renowned" newspaper of George Washington High School known as The Chatterbox. To be held in the memories of all staff members are the many hours spent in the Pressroom—the hours of work, jokes, clowning, and card games. The fun enjoyed by all the "ducks" and "visitors" who dropped in will never be forgotten.

The Green Duck is the symbol of the Press Club to which all staff members belong. Sponsoring the Bunny Girl Contest and High School Day at Herman's are just two of the fund-raising projects undertaken by this group.

Every Christmas the Press Club Party is a real event. The room is gayly decorated with a big Christmas tree and the boards are bright with color. Soft drinks and other refreshments are provided for everyone and fun is had by all. Songs are sung and jokes cracked throughout the party and a cute Christmas gift and rhyme is given to each staff member. To complete the year, there is a Press Club banquet featuring talks by professional journalists and other guests.

Press Club Officers—Carolyn Edwards, Kathy Hughes, Linda Jo Saunders, and Gary Moore—talk over plans for Green Duck Day with Mr. Allen Herman.

LATIN CLUB

"Latin is not a dead language!" say the members of the LATIN CLUB, "for the purpose of our club is to promote interest in the language and Roman civilization." This club is affiliated with the Junior Classical League, a national organization and each year the member who contributes the greatest service to the club is presented a key from the National Latin Honor Society.

At monthly meetings members give reports, plan projects, and play Latin games. Future plans include an assembly program to acquaint the student body with the Latin Department.

Each April the Latin instructor selects several students to participate in the Latin tournament. In 1954 Barbara Sue Johnson, Henry Bourne, Jean Roland, and Charles Dameron placed in the state finals.

SPANISH CLUB

The organization, LAS CUCARACHAS, has as its principle purpose the promoting of friendship and better understanding between its members and the people of the Spanish speaking countries.

All students currently studying Spanish are eligible for membership in the club and bi-monthly meetings are held in each individual class.

As an annual event, El Club de Espanol holds a fiesta. On this occasion, Spanish-minded students deck themselves in their gayest costumes and join their friends for a night of Spanish delight.

Y-TEENS

The Y-TEENS organization is the high school division of the Young Women's Christian Association. The purpose of each member is to grow as a person; to grow in friendship with all people; and to grow in the knowledge and love of God.

Each Y-Teen club is represented on the Inter-Club Council by its president, vice-president, program chairman and Inter-Club Council representative.

Roll call week is the first project of the year, during which time old members recruit new ones. In October the officers of each club look forward to a day at Camp Stony Mill for officers Training Conference.

One of the big events of this year was a trip to New York City. The eighth and ninth graders went March 17-21 and the sophomores, Juniors and Seniors went during the Easter holidays.

10TH GRADE Y-TEENS: First row: S. Williams, P. Bailey, C. Hughes, N. Bennett, J. Crutchfield, A. Thomas, P. Jones, N. Cole, E. Shelton, C. Johnson, P. Compson.

D. E. CLUB

With Mr. Rexford O'Neil and Miss Joan Wyman as coordinators and Kenneth Harvey as president, the Distributive Education Club provides for all members a wide knowledge of retailing and its problems. D. E. students spend fifteen hours a week in some field of distribution and attend school half a day.

"Learning and earning" is the motto of the club with special emphasis on learning. However, not all of the D. E. Club's activities include work, for special functions held are parties, picnics, and dances. Members also attend state and district conventions, promote the D. E. program, and undertake many special projects, such as fixing and distributing Christmas baskets.

The GW chapter of the FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA was founded last year to familiarize students who are planning to enter the field of business with the commercial world.

Anyone who has taken or is taking a business subject is eligible for membership. The club meets each week in the school library, alternating business meetings with socials.

Seated: B. Chears, M. Gammon.
Front row: J. Dix, J. A. Walker, N. Snead, M. Warren, M. L. Joslin, M. Crenshaw.
Back row: B. Baccary, D. Williams, S. Wilson, E. Smith, J. Bond, A. W. Gauldin, D. Cole, S. Tickle, C. Lowe.

GLEE CLUB

One of the most active clubs in the school is the George Washington GLEE CLUB. Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Oliver, the club participates in many of the school assembly programs besides having a busy outside schedule.

Each year at Christmas, the singers present The Messiah to the Danville public. They have sung before various civic clubs, at the dedicatory service for Memorial Hospital, and have prepared programs for the World Day of Brotherhood and the World Day of Prayer.

Several of the Glee Club's eighty members attended the All-Western Chorus held in Roanoke during the month of February. GW was also represented at the Massanetta Summer Choral Camp.

During the past few years the Glee Club has been rated as one of the best in the state, and GW is very proud of its choral group.

Seated: C. Williams, S. Boswell.
Front row: J. Patterson, S. Poteat, D. Abbott, P. Farris, M. Scearce, S. Barbour.
Back row: N. Chaney, J. Snipes, S. Angell, L. V. Million, F. Gill, Y. Davis, L. Giles, M. A. Earles, K. Hughes, T. Bowles, R. Giles, D. Sanders.

At one time or another, everyone wonders just what is causing those strange shrieks and howls which float out of room 312 during first and sixth periods everyday. However, their wonderment would be even greater if they were to see just what actually was happening inside the sacred portals.

Just why would a small, energetic lady be hopping on and off a chair, and making faces at her students? Well, the plain, simple truth is that the lady is GW's own Miss Oliver, and she is doing her best to keep up the Glee Club's super reputation. By standing on chairs, the little lady overcomes her lack of stature. Her facial expression is her way of getting just exactly the tone she desires. Whatever her means, she accomplishes her goal—a Glee Club which receives the highest ovations wherever it is heard.

Seated: C. Huff, Secretary-Treasurer, K. Payne, Vice-President.

"--and he shall reign forever and ever"

The highlight of the year for the Glee Club is the annual presentation of the Christmas music from Handel's Messiah. This has become a tradition and an integral part of the observance of Christmas in Danville. Miss Oliver was justly proud of this year's performance which took place on the evening of December 9 in the school auditorium.

Douglas Chenault, Martha Gammon, and Dora Govas, as they appear as the three principal soloists in Handel's Messiah.

F. H. A.

The George Washington chapter of the FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA, a national organization, is composed of sixty-eight members. Club officers are Pat Frizzell, president; Barbara Jones, vice-president; Helen Alderman, secretary; and Shirley Stokes, treasurer.

The F.H.A. creed emphasizes the fact that the participants realize they are the future homemakers of tomorrow and they "face the future with warm courage and high hope," so they may establish "homes where truth and love and security and faith will be realities."

This club is indeed an active one, having both a business and a social meeting each month. The school profits from the attractive bulletin board, frequently changed, kept in the hall. Also the club members had an excellent exhibit at the Danville Fair, appeared on television programs, and catered for two civic banquets.

The following were participants of the F.H.A. installation ceremony: R. Keates, P. Rhodes, B. Vaughn, J. Wilson, P. Sahms, P. Frizzell, President; P. Farries, P. Kinder, Mrs. Styers, Chapter Mother; H. Alderman, Secretary; S. Stokes, Treasurer; B. Jones, Vice-president.

Kneeling: J. Bonner, President.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

GW's PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB is one of the school's most promising organizations because it is producing the staff photographers of The Chatterbox and the CAVALIER. John Bonner, who is club president, holds both of these jobs now.

Bi-weekly meetings provide the members with an opportunity to learn more about photography. Some of the programs have included color slides, demonstrations, and a trip to a local photography concern.

The club has as its prime purpose "to promote interest in all phases of photography." Many of the members belong to the Danville Photography Club, and will not drop their interest when they finish high school.

Members learn every phase of the work from the developing of a roll of film to enlarging. More recently Mr. G. L. Thomasson, who is the faculty adviser, has opened a new field to the members, that of color photography.

A contest is held between members for the best human interest picture for which a prize is awarded and the picture is put in the CAVALIER. This and a picnic in the spring highlight the year's activity for the Shutterbugs.

Photography Club members—George Rucker Penn, Eva Stegall, and Bob Cotton—snap Mary Jane Martin, a member of the newly formed Models' Club.

while dramatics was their interest

The THESPIANS of George Washington High School form the core of the dramatic activities within the school. After having met certain requisites, they are selected from among talented young aspirants for the crown of stardom.

Requirements set by the National Thespians Dramatic Honorary Society are attained from actual participation or by assisting in the production of the plays. Each Thespian must have knowledge and understanding of the basic principles of stage production. After qualifying for membership in the local chapter 605, they become affiliated with the national society.

Bill Nelson and Carol Johnson, playing the leading roles in "Jane Eyre", watch Lambsie Penn perform.

Many of these young actors and actresses may startle or completely puzzle their fellow classmates with the following statements: "Have you descended on a moonbeam?" or "You don't look like a fool, but you're a woman." These may be well-known quotations from the classics or lines from the latest plays presented by the drama students.

THESPIANS

Third row: B. Scism, C. Smith, J. Woody.

They were well informed in science --

SCIENCE FORUM

Barbara Klaff gazes at the stars as Sandy Pilipowskyj and John Bonner look on.

The SCIENCE FORUM, one of the long-established groups at GW, is composed of a small number of students with G. L. Thomasson as advisor. In its purpose of furthering scientific interests, discussions include such topics as space travel, the Maco lights, dreams, and unusual animals. Meetings are held bi-weekly at members' homes.

This year for the first time, the forum sponsored a science project program. Many students participated with such entries as new inventions and collections of the elements.

Selection of members is based upon the candidate's interest in science and his having taken one year of laboratory work, such as biology, chemistry or physics.

First row: A. McClung, B. Klaff, M. Saunders, B. Scism, V. Lobl.
Second row: K. Lea, K. Passamaneck, S. Pilipowskyj, D. Harris, G. Moore, Mr. Thomasson, Sponsor.
Third row: K. Price, J. Farley, John Bonner.

First row: K. Gardner, B. Klaff, M. Saunders, C. Edwards, S. Pilipowskyj, M. Jordan, M. Jordan P. Clark, M. Evans.
Second row: N. Ferguson, N. Williams, E. Oakes, H. McMann M. Farley, W. Vanderwerff, C. Gourley, K. Lea.
Third row: Miss D. Jordan, A. Barker, A. Cox, B. Motley, J. Keeling, K. Passamaneck, J. Barnett, M. Mathews, V. Lobl, A. McClung.

I. R. C.

To stimulate interest in national and international affairs is the chief purpose of the INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB. A student must be in senior high school and have at least a ninety average in social studies for one semester to become a member. At the forum meetings, held twice a month, the members have an opportunity to express their own views as well as hear the opinions of others.

Sandy Pilipowskyj heads the I.R.C. this year, with Carolyn Edwards as vice-president. Jo Anne Owen and Martha Jordan hold the offices of secretary and treasurer respectively. Under the guidance of Miss Dorothy Jordan, the I.R.C. has become one of the most active clubs at GW.

Mary Jordan and Kenneth Passamaneck discuss the difference between communism today and pure communism. Johnny Keeling drinks the Russian tea served by Betty Motley as Barbara Klaff listens intently.

It was "All out for ads!"

ADVERTISING STAFF

Many hours of hard work were spent by the 1955 ADVERTISING STAFF in securing advertisements for the CAVALIER. But tiredness and other worries were soon forgotten when a merchant signed one of those small slips of paper.

The entire CAVALIER staff expresses its appreciation for the cooperation and support of all Danville businessmen advertising in the yearbook.

With Martha and Mary Jordan as co-advertising managers, the staff was composed of the following: Beverly Gooch, Cindy Gatewood, Jean Roland, Sandy Pilipowskyj, Kenneth Passamaneck, Sarah Shelton, Nancy Williams, Buddie Cochran, Joan Allen, Jackie Shaw, Nancy Bebeau, Sarah Easley, Ellen Flowers, Helen McMann, Carole Kushner, Fred Leggett, Dale Harris, Ann Powell, Jean Dunagan, Patsy Evans, Alice Jo Barker, Frannie Winborne, Donald Doss, Jean Styers, Jo Ann Walker, Betty Jane Wyatt, Tommy Bowles, Peggy Farries, Anne Bruce Worsham, and Stuart King.
